The Standard Barometer and Thermometer are read at 4 a.m., 10 a.m., 4 p.m., and 8 p.m., and the daily means are obtained by the application of hourly corrections, deduced from twenty years' observations. The column of the Barometer is twenty-two feet above the level of the sea, and the receiver of the Rain Gauge is two feet from the ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the current Civil Day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since January 1st is 1.48 inches, the average due for the season being 2.50 inches.

SCHEDULE.

Number and year	Subject.	Extent of repeal.
Madras Regulation V of 1918	The Madras Village Panchayat Regulation, 1918.	The whole regulation.
Madras Regulation XI of 1918	The Madras Village Police Regulation, 1918.	The last 65 words of clause first of section 16, i.e., the words beginning with "or of" and ending with the words "as here."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Village courts in the Madras Presidency have been in existence on a statutory basis for over a century, and in their present form since 1855 when the Village Courts Act, 1855, came into force. Under this Act there are two kinds of courts, the village munsif acting by himself and the bench court constituted under section 9. Village munsifs sitting alone now dispose of over 150,000 suits a year. The bench courts are not so popular, as only about 7,000 suits are tried by them every year. The bench court consists of the village munsif and of two persons selected, one by the plaintiff and one by the defendant, from a list of villagers prepared by the Collector. The bench court, therefore, resembles an arbitration board rather than a court. In spite of the fact that village courts dispose of a large number of petty cases, there are still some 60,000 suits which are tried by them but which are filed in and tried by the regular courts of the district munsif. With a view to increase the usefulness of the village tribunals Mr. Phillips was placed on special duty to enquire into their working, and as the result of his enquiries he has reported that the benches constituted under section 9 of the Act are not a success, but that there is a possibility of systems in favour of some form of panchayat courts. The Government believe that if panchayat courts are established a considerable proportion of petty suits which now go before the district munsifs will be diverted to the Village Courts.

It is proposed therefore to amend section 9 of the Act in order to substitute for the present bench panel a panchayat to be nominated by the Collector in consultation with police. The members of the panchayat will sit as a court in the same manner as a bench of honorary magistrates, that is to say, all the members of the panchayat sit and there foregoes a quorum. In the selection of the panchayat the Collector will be guided so far as possible by the wishes of the people of the locality.

The rank of jurisdiction of a village court, in regard to suits, viz., Rs. 25, was fixed in 1855. It is considered that the jurisdiction now set with advantage be raised to Rs. 50.

It is also proposed to repeal the Madras Village Panchayats Regulation, 1895, as it is little used and is not suited to present day requirements.

As regards the criminal jurisdiction of village courts, it is not proposed to extend the powers of a village magistrate sitting alone, but it is considered that the great majority of petty offences such as assault, mischief, etc., which now go before the regular courts can be tried with advantage before the panchayat courts which it is proposed to set up. The following statistics show what a very large proportion of such complaints are in districts of rural or agricultural—

Offence.	Discharged or settled.	Convicted.
Larceny	35,649	1,540
Assault	37,777	2,435
Mischief	12,932	1,739
Hurt	42,665	7,151
Criminal trespass	11,882	2,608

It is proposed accordingly to give power to panchayat courts to try the petty offences mentioned in clause 17 of the Bill.

Opportunity is also taken to abolish punishment by confinement in stocks authorized by Regulation XI of 1815.

Village courts have at present only a meagre criminal jurisdiction along with the regular Civil and Criminal Courts, and it is not considered expedient to give them broader jurisdiction until experience shows whether the new tribunals give satisfaction to the people. The Bill provides, however, that if any suit is instituted in the court of a district munsif, which in the opinion of the district munsif ought to have been instituted in the village court, an order shall be allowed to a successful plaintiff and a successful defendant that he may file his suits as before panchayat and civil (or criminal) to section 16 of the Madras Civil Court Act, 1902. It also gives power to a Magistrate before whom a complaint is made by a panchayat court to bring to order the complainant to the panchayat court.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 4 (1).—This amendment is necessitated by the provisions of the new section 9 (vide clause 7).

Clause 4 (3).—This is inserted with reference to the provisions of the new section 16 (4).

Clause 5.—It is proposed to give the power of appointment of village munsifs to divisional officers.

Clause 7 provides for the establishment of the panchayat courts.

Clause 8.—The pecuniary limit of jurisdiction is raised to Rs. 50. In order to discourage parties from filing suits to this by village courts in district munsifs' courts it is proposed to give power to district munsifs to transfer suits to successful plaintiffs.

Clause 15.—This alteration is inserted to meet the possibility of the neighbouring village court being a panchayat court.

Clause 20 (2).—This is necessitated by the provision for the panchayat court but to ensure that no member can be replaced by another so transfer of the suit is necessary.

Clause 11.—The proviso is omitted in view of the provisions of the Limitation Act which are applicable to the village courts.

Clause 12.—It has been suggested that the village court be interested or served by a party to be interested should be required to stay proceedings and report to the district court who should be required to transfer the suit to an adjoining village. Provision is made to give effect to this suggestion.

Clause 13.—It is considered desirable that in suits before village courts the expenses incurred on account of plaintiff's fees should not be allowed as costs, as paid legal assistance is ordinarily unnecessary in suits tried by these village tribunals.

Clause 14.—Provision is made for the original summons being signed by the defendant as required by Order V, rule 16 of the Civil Procedure Code.

Clause 15.—Provision for the enforce of the summons by writ of habeas corpus (vide Order V, rule 17 of the Civil Procedure Code).

Clause 16.—This provision is intended to simplify the existing procedure relating to the arrest of persons of debtors.

Clause 17.—Provision for conferring criminal jurisdiction over certain specified offences to panchayat courts and the extending the list of offences triable by such courts. Power is given to regulate magistrates to take cognizance which are triable by panchayat courts in such courts. The main features of procedure in trials are also provided for, and the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure are expressly declared to be inapplicable.

The examination, in any case, will be considered if it is not held on the above-mentioned date, but the effect of postponing the examination may make it too advantageous with the candidates regarding the pass and loss of the examination. Candidates for examination at the College will forward their applications direct to the Principal, or to before the last Monday in August.

Postponed candidates should apply to a superior officer of the Public Works Department not later than thirty days previous to the date fixed for the examination. Their applications must be forwarded to the Principal through the Public Works Officer.

(2) Certificate that the candidate is under 25 years of age which must be signed by a Medical officer of rank not lower than Assistant Surgeon. * Certificate may be submitted in original, or true copy, attested by an officer of the Engineer-in-Charge's rank, but also will be returned.

I consent to participate in the examination of the applicant at the above-mentioned place.

(Signature of officer.)

The Principal will decide from the certificate whether an application should be registered or rejected.

Examination papers for registered candidates will be sent from the College to superintending schools in time for the examination. The following are the subjects of examination and the marks for each. In order to pass, a candidate must obtain the minimum marks in each subject and, independently, two-thirds (2/3) of the total marks.—
